(e) if so, what Government propose to do in this regard?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS (SHRI MANIKRAO GAVIT): (a) and (b) As per statistics compiled by the National Crime Records Bureau, there were 237076 undertrials detained in various jails of the country as on 31.12.2005. (e) "Prisons" is a state subject under List II of the Seventh Schedule to the Constitution of India and Prison Administration is primarily the responsibility of the respective State Governments. However, with a view to supplement the efforts of the State Governments, the following reform measures have been taken up by the Central Government:

1. In order to improve the condition of prisons, prisoners and the prison staff, the Central Government launched a non-plan scheme in 2002-03 for construction of additional prisons to reduce overcrowding, repair and renovation of existing prisons, improvement in sanitation and water supply and living accommodation for prison staff. The scheme is being implemented over a period of five years with an outlay of Rs. 1800 crore on cost sharing basis in the ratio of 75:25 between the Central and State Governments respectively.

2 A new section viz 436 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 has been inserted in the Code to provide that where an undertrial prisoner other than the one accused of an offence for which death has been prescribed as one of the punishments, has been under detention for a period extending to one-half of the maximum period of imprisonment, provided for the alleged offence, he should be released on his personal bond, with or without sureties. It also provides that, in no case will an undertrail prisoner be detained beyond the maximum period of imprisonment for which he can be convicted for the alleged offence.

Section 436 (1) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 has also been amended to make a mandatory provision that if the arrested person is accused for a bailable offence and he is an indigent and cannot furnish surety, the Court shall release him on his execution of a bond without sureties.

3. In 2006, th Government of India has introduced the system of plea argaining primarily to reduce pendency of cases in trial courts and overcrowding in prisons. Under plea bargaining, an accused will be entitled to a reduced sentence if be dmits to the crime and agrees to compensate the victim. This will also require tbe consent of the victim, judge and prosecutor. The accused will bave to file an application before the judge for plea bargaining.

4. For disposal of long pending sessions and other cases, Government of India bas also set up 1562 Fast Track Court which have disposed off a total of 10.4 lakh ases out of 18.2 lakh cases transferred to them.

5. Government of India has prepared a Model Prison Manual fun and circulated to all the State Governments/Union Territories in December, 2003 for their guidance. The manual aims at bringing in basic uniformity in laws, rules and regulations governing the dministration of prisons and the management of prisoners all over the country; rationalization of prison practices to cater effectively to various categories of prisoners, spelling out minimum standards of institutional services for tbe care, protection, treatment, education,training and resocialisation of incarcerated offenders etc.
